A simple registration of money in the same observational mode as the field formats. One line per transaction. Connect each entry to a stream, a purpose, and the effect it had on the field.

Place / node: _____ Period: _____

Currency: _____ Reviewed by: _____

Per transaction: Record date, amount, classification, stream, purpose, and observed effect.

Rule: Field-legibility layer only. Formal accounting remains separate.

Stream A — Land & ecology Stream B — Steward viability Stream C — Governance & coordination

Important rule

The streams are non-compensatory. A strong reading in one stream does not justify weakness in another.

Stream A funds land, water, soil, and ecological work.

Stream B funds the people carrying the field.

Stream C funds governance and coordination.

Consent and care

Where photographs, names, schools, or minors are involved, note consent in the observed-effect column. Consent is ongoing and revisable.

If a transfer crosses an internal threshold, ensure dual review. If anything is unclear, log it as a question rather than as a fact.

Remember: Connect money to action to lived effect. One line per transaction. Honest gaps are more useful than fabricated entries.
